Health Problem Doesn't Exist

There is no health problem and there probably will be no fly problem resulting from the fertilizer placed on the Canyon High School football field.

This is the gist of a report by Bill Taylor of the Bi-City County Health Department to Dr. Dudley Moore who is president of the Canyon school board and also county health officer.

Dr. Moore asked for the report after a complaint had been resistered by Canyon's mayor, Dr. J. Manly Bryan, and the city commission.

Dr. Moore said only a small amount of manure fertilizer was placed on the Rex Reeves school yard and none on the high school campus.

pus. Only the football field was fertilized.

He said this was roto-tilled in about 4-5 inches deep and should create no fly problem.

However, he said he has asked Taylor to check it periodically for fly breeding.

The city had asked that the school board seek proper insecticides to control fly breeding as a result of the fertilizing.

Dr. Bryan said the fly problem from fertilizing could last all summer.

There was some concern expressed about fertilizing the athletic field with manure based on the assumption that an athlete might be infected with tetanus. Dr. G. Mason Kahn, director of the Bi-City-County Health Department, said there is no health statute forbidding its use on the football field.

Dr. Bryan told the city commission Thursday night that he had received several complaints about the odor resulting from fertilizing. He was concerned about a possible fly problem.

In other action Thursday night, the city commission raised the salary of City Manager Howard Northcutt from $11,000 annually to $11,500.

The commission agreed to hold a special meeting at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon to award a contract on remodeling of the American Legion Hall. There were three bids for remodeling and one for painting.

Fish Farm Is Started In County

Canyon's second catfish farm is going into operation just east of the city limits.

This one is being operated by Jimmy Christopher, Canyon insurance man, and R. C. McNeil, Wayside, who operates McNeil Flying Service.

Three wells with electric pumps began pouring water into a huge excavation for the catfish pond Sunday. Christopher said the pond which covers 3.7 surface acres should be filled to the proper depth within the next 10 days.

The turbine pumps must pull water only about 20 feet from the 50-foot wells. Water feeding the wells is sheet water about 20 feet below the surface.

Christopher said the only water he will lose will be from evaporation. The rest will soak back to the water strata and can be pumped (See FISH, Page 11)

Dennis Jones and Gay Long unpack commodities at the new distribution center in Canyon. The Center, located at 1605A 4th Ave., will provide surplus commodities to indigent families.

Indigent Families Offered Staples

A Commodity distribution center opened Friday in Canyon at 1605A 4th Ave. over the objections of the Randall County Commission.

The center is a branch of the Texas Department of Public Welfare which had been advised by the Federal government to open distribution centers in all counties not participating in such programs by June 30.

Designed to meet the needs of indigent families, the center provides staple products that are furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These products which were purchased by the USDA as part of farm surplus may not be "sold or exchanged." Such an admonition is printed on each package along with instructions for preparation and recipes.

Persons living in Randall County who receive public assistance (old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to families with dependent children and aid to the permanently and totally disabled) may be referred to the commodities center by their Public Assistance worker.

Mrs. Vivian Cummings, of the State Welfare office in Randall County Court-house indicated she will refer persons to the center who ask to be referred.

According to Mrs. Cummings there are approximately 450 active cases in her district which covers Swisher, Randall and part of Potter Counties.

James Cason of the Texas Department of Welfare office indicated to the Randall Commissioners that there were approximately 629 families in Randall county who would be eligible (See STAPLES, Page 11)

Reject Fire Cost

Amarillo city fireman may not answer rural Randall County fire calls after county commissioners Monday turned down an Amarillo offer to answer such calls for $250 a fire.

Randall County currently is paying $100 a call to the cities of Amarillo, Canyon and Happy. Last year the three departments answered about 90 such calls for a cost to the county of some $9,000.

In a letter to the Randall County commissioners court read at a meeting Monday, Amarillo City Manager John Stiff told the court that the cost per fire to Amarillo is $567.87.

He made a formal request that the county pay $250 a fire.

The court said it was not interested in such a proposal. The Amarillo city manager Tuesday morning said he had received a letter saying that Randall County had declined the offer.

"I can't speak for the city commission but I am sure that when I present it to the commission it will discontinue the service," Stiff said.

"At $250 we offered it at 50 percent of cost," he went on. "Half price is as low as we can go."

Potter County commissioners court Monday agreed to the Amarillo proposal of $250 a fire.

At the rate proposed by the city of Amarillo, last year's rural fire protection would have cost Randall County $22,500 instead of $9,000 or an increase of

Divorce Cost Is Appalling, Officer Says

Cost of divorce in dollars and cents can be appalling as office hands at the district clerk's office which processes something like a half million dollars in child support annually can testify.

In the past nine days the clerk's office has handled $11,833.23 and the volume is growing by the week. The rate of gain in the amount processed by the office is growing at a rate of more than $50,000 a year.

District courts in Randall County hand down a greater number of divorce decrees than the number of marriage licenses sold by the (See DIVORCE, Page 11) $13,500.

Canyon firemen answered 69 rural calls. At the rate proposed by Amarillo this would have cost the county $17,250 instead of the $6,900 actually billed to the county.

Canyon estimates its cost per fire at about $235.

At a Tuesday meeting of the Amarillo city commission, Commissioner L. Ray Vahue said Randall County is just looking for a free ride. He added that Randall County commissioners have "historically" refused to pay their fair share of various services.

The answer from Randall County Judge Carroll Brown was just as caustic as he noted that all the fires fought in rural Randall County by the Amarillo Fire Department last year were grass fires.

"Umberger Fire Department can do a better job of fighting grass fires than Amarillo," Judge Brown declared.

Brown said the Amarillo department is just not equipped to handle most rural fires efficiently. "They don't have adequate equipment to fight grass fires," he said. "Those big snorkles they have aren't any good on grass fires."

Commissioner Dowlen said it isn't fair for the city to figure the cost of maintaining a fire department to handle such fires as the Amarillo High School fire and then pro-rate that cost on a per fire basis to Randall County.

Randall County commissioners were emphatic in re-

Fund Request Approval Set

Approval of West Texas State University legislative appropriation request for the biennium 1971-73 will highlight a board of regents meeting to be held in Dallas July 10.

Dr. James P. Cornette, university president, said the meeting will be held at the Sheraton Hotel in Dallas.

The request must be in the hands of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, by July 15.

Dr. Cornette said the July 10 meeting will replace the one originally scheduled for Aug. 7. Cloyce Box of Dallas is board chairman.

Century Plant Blooms

Delmer Thomas admires the century plant which bloomed in his yard this week.

A 20-year-old plant has bloomed for the first and last time this week outside the home of Delmar Thomas, 2011 5th Ave.

The plant, commonly known as a century plant, was planted in the yard about 20 years ago by Lige Frieze who owned the house at the time. It was an offshoot of the plant owned by Joe Baber, a neighbor across the street.

Baber's plant had just bloomed, and had produced offshoots before it died. The offshoot given to Frieze has now grown into an 18-foot plant that towers above the Thomas home.

"This plant isn't nearly so tall as Baber's was," Thomas said.

However, Baber said his plant grew to a height of about 18 feet.

The plant, which is properly called the American aloes, was mistakenly named century plant through the idea that it blooms only after reading 100 years of age. The time of blooming depends upon the plant's vigor and the conditions under which it grows. In warm climates, the plant may bloom within a few years. (See CENTURY, Page 11)

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baber stand by the century plant which bloomed 20 years ago in their back yard.

COVERING FUMBLE

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

Panhandle Regional Planning Committee was formed to increase cooperation among subdivisions of government in the Panhandle, especially in the Amarillo area.

The PRPC came into being about a year ago and there is more dissension in the Amarillo municipal area than ever before.

It seems like everyone is wanting to mooch and free load off each other.

Potter County commissioners announced recently that they wanted a joint meeting with Randall County commissioners. They presented a list of things with which they wanted help running all the way from the Amarillo hospital district to Potter County Memorial Stadium.

Helping out with the hospital district has some merit but Randall County has about as much business chipping in on expenses at Potter County Memorial Stadium as it would in helping foot the bill for the Astrodome.

Amarillo has been getting $100 a fire just like the other two municipalities who answer rural fire calls in Randall County. This week Amarillo asked for an increase of 150 percent.

Randall County refused and the city of Amarillo in effect labled Randall commissioners a bunch of cheap-skates who don't want to pay their way.

What made it so ludicrous was that Amarillo Commissioner Ray Vahue said Randall County wanted a free ride. This is exactly the phrase used by Randall Commissioner Bill Butler referring to use of the county jail and communications by the city of Canyon.

I can see both sides in the current argument over fire fighting costs. The city of Amarillo figures the cost of a single fire runs the city almost $600.

Randall commissioners figure the city is trying to make them pay for the cost of fighting big fires in the city such as the Amarillo High School fire.

With some merit Randall County Judge Carroll Brown pointed out that some of Amarillo's most expensive equipment isn't even any good in fighting rural fires.

Amarillo answered nine grass fire calls last year, according to Brown. The judge says Umbarger firemen with their limited facilities were better equipped for handling these particular calls than was Amarillo.

The surplus commodity warehouse being operated by the state welfare department in conjunction with the US Department of Agriculture has been a lonely place since it opened.

Mrs. Gay Long who runs it has had an opportunity to catch up on her reading.

She said it was opened last Friday and Saturday and that during the first two days only 12 eligible people showed up representing seven families.

Monday was even more dull. No one at all came by.

I heard Senator George McGovern on a television interview show Sunday and he sounded more like a senator from Hanoi than from Washington.

No wonder the people of Texas voted Ralph Yarborough out of office for just associating with him.

H. M. Baggerly, that paragon of fairness who operates the newspaper in Tulia, thought it was all right when Lyndon Johnson hired Billy Don Moyer, a Baptist preacher, on his staff.

H. M. was even quiet when LBJ proudly referred to Moyer as "mah Babbis preacher."

But when Richard Nixon passes the time of day with Billy Graham, likewise a Baptist, H. M. sees it as a threat to separation of church and state.

Baggerly's line that he is dedicated to "giving both sides" is one that ought to be on laugh in.

4-H Day Camp Set July 11

Five Randall County 4-H Clubs will participate in a day camp program July 11.

Members of Cleta, Wagon Wheel, T-Anchor, Randell and Jowell 4-H groups will meet at the Farm Bureau building at 9 a.m. for a hayride to the Palo Duro Canyon.

Activities scheduled for the day include a hike, learning situation, crafts and recreation.

Chairmen for the events will be Randy Dugan, hayride and hike; Glenda Hollenstein, Connie Brazzil and Jerry Crain, learning situation; Terry Reynolds and Millie Hales, crafts; Connie Brazzil, Sue Kirby and Billy Dugan, recreation; and Linda Hales and Willie Hales, cookout.

County Agent John Brazzil and 4-H sponsors will accompany the group.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

It is a law of nature that a pendulum must swing from one extreme to the other before it settles in the true center. Somewhere between the warring factions of radical right and left lies the truth.

The destructive dissent characteristic of this era is probably a reaction from the previous generation when dissent of any kind—however constructive—was taboo. Even in congregational churches, which are supposed to be pure democracies, dissent was practically unknown.

A renowned evangelist used to say that if a church could get a motion and a second to shoot the pastor, no one would vote against it. So the fellows with the quickest tongues and loudest voices usually ruled. Inasmuch as the loudest mouth does not always have the most to say, such a policy has proven tragic for the churches.

When members cannot vote their convictions with impunity, they usually quit voting; then quit attending. One reason churches of all denominations have lost spirit, power, and numbers is because dissent has been ignored.

Constructive dissent is essential to progress. All men make mistakes; where there are no objective observers with the courage to point out those mistakes, they are not likely to be corrected.

Critics who brand all forms of dissent as nihilistic negativism deter progress. Many victories are won through constructive criticism.

Truth is the only road to freedom and security. But the skeptics repeat Pilate's age-old question: "What is truth?"

What is the truth behind the charges of racism, discrimination, police brutality, educational inadequacies, et cetera, in America?

Do not the majority of people prefer the society of their own race? Would it not then be wise for one who cannot adjust to this situation to dwell where his race is in the majority?

Americans of Mexican descent may complain of discrimination. But the hundreds of Mexican nationals who risk imprisonment and death every day to slip into the U. S. do not complain. Rather they contend that the poorest situation here is preferable to peonage in Mexico.

Any white man enters black Africa at the risk of his life. If he unavoidably strikes a child who darts into the path of his automobile, he will probably be torn limb from limb by the natives even if the child is not seriously injured. And it is useless to try to escape; African drumbeats are far more effective than our wireless system.

Nowhere else on earth do minorities have the freedoms and privileges they enjoy in America.

Police brutality is a fact, but the police are usually the victims—not the perpetrators. Policemen injured in the line of duty by criminals far outnumber suspects injured by police.

Why do thousands of law-abiding students stand mutely on the sidelines while militants wreck their colleges? One of the reasons is that peaceful protests have been ignored for so many years.

Every semester the average college offers courses that are dropped by half the students and failed by half the ones who remain. Anytime three out of four students who register for a course fail to get credit for it, that is an eloquent protest that should not be ignored; something is radically wrong with the course or the instructor.

Silent protests having been ignored, students should speak, but in a manner becoming civilized men. Militants preach peace—but they practice war. They are burning our colleges and our banks; next they will be burning our homes.

What is truth? Truth is reality, and reality is fact. What are the facts behind the issues that are ripping our mighty nation apart? We must learn them if we expect to stop the pendulum's destructive arcs.

Missouri Valley Conference Accepts WTSU Into Membership Saturday

DALLAS--West Texas State University became a member of the Missouri Valley Conference at 12:45 p.m. Saturday.

Announcement was made to the press at 2 o'clock by Dr. Bill Miller of North Texas State University who is president of the MVC. Dr. Miller grew up in Canyon and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Miller.

"I am pleased to be able to announce that West Texas State has been accepted by unanimous vote into the Missouri Valley Conference," Dr. Miller said. "I would hasten to add that we are delighted. We think that the Missouri Valley Conference has a lot to offer. It is one of the old conferences, established in 1908. West Texas State is continuing in a very fine and old tradition."

Dr. Miller said the Buffaloes will begin competing in the Conference in football in 1972 or sooner if scheduling permits. He said competition may begin in basketball in 1971-72 and not later than 1972-73.

The MVC president said that since no scheduling problem exists in other sports, competition for Conference championships may begin immediately.

At this point Dr. Miller shook hands with West Texas State University president Dr. James P. Cornette. "All of us that love West Texas State University are delighted and appreciative," said Dr. Cornette. "We are proud to become associated with a group of institutions which have such a fine past and such a glorious future."

Dr. Cornette introduced six persons who expressed appreciation for the institution and the area. These included Jack Edmondson, who will be faculty representative to the MVC, Joe Kerbel, athletic director; Jim Jenkins, member of the board of regents; Duane Byars, ex-student president; Gary Story, president of the student body; and Dr. Fred Johnson, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

MVC Commissioner DeWitt Weaver, under whom Kerbel worked at Texas Tech, told the group that the MVC has had seven other applications for Conference membership. "You can expect a lot of great things from this Conference," Weaver declared.

Acceptance into the MVC was fruit of years of labor on the part of West Texas State supporters. The Saturday announcement must have been especially gratifying to Coach Kerbel who has poured a decade of his life into building the sports program at WTSU.

Kerbel took over the portfolio of athletic director along with that of head football coach only this year. Frank Kimbrough, veteran football mentor and for 10 years athletic director, remains as assistant athletic director.

Dennis Walling is the highly successful Buffalo basketball coach who has returned the winning tradition on the maplewood to the maroon and white.

Bob Sloan is baseball coach and David Kent is tennis coach. Bob Kitchens, himself a sprinter in his college days, directs the WTSU thinclads.

Vern Farquhar, pro at Hunsley Hills, is WT golf coach.

In every category, West Texas State's athletic plant facilities are superb. Buffalo Bowl is one of the finest stadiums its size in the Southwest and plans already are in the mill for a $4½ million improvement there when it is needed.

The fieldhouse leaves something to be desired but future home basketball games will be played in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum until an adequate field house can be constructed.

Other facilities include superb accommodations for baseball, tennis and track. The new activities building houses an Olympic-sized swimming pool and the home course for WT golfers is beautiful Hunsley Hills in walking distance of the campus.

Inclusion of West Texas

State brings to nine the Missouri Valley membership. Others in the conference include Bradley, Drake, Louisville, Memphis State, North Texas State, St. Louis, Tulsa and Wichita State.

Since its founding in 1910, what began as West Texas State Normal College has undergone a long series of changes, always broadening its scope, always improving, always growing. Today the institution is known as West Texas State University.

The first degrees were granted in 1919, and in 1923 the school was renamed West Texas State Teacher's College. The name was changed to West Texas State College in 1949 in recognition of the wider scope of curriculum. Finally in 1963, the institution became known as West Texas State University.

With a present winter enrollment of more than 8,000, the university is large enough to offer a wide variety of educational programs and excellent instructional facilities, yet it is small enough to give students individual attention.

Since 1948, when Dr. Cornette succeeded Dr. J. A. Hill as president of the university, the Panhandle's oldest institution of higher learning has grown in enrollment by five times; the annual operational budget has more than tripled; and 18 of the university's major buildings have been built or radically expanded through additions.

Showing the university's rapid growth and expansion program is the new University Complex South which houses administration offices as well as classrooms and the Activities Center. The new structures comprise the first phase of a 20-million dollar complex. Two high-rise dormitories and a cafeteria addition are under construction, with completion expected in 1971.

The Activities Center contains an eight-lane bowling alley, an olympic-sized swimming pool, 10 four-wall handball courts and an all-purpose room with a Uni-Turf surface which is 305 feet long and 115 feet wide. Four full-sized basketball courts, arranged side by side, are in the all-purpose room.

With the signing of a bill by Governor Preston Smith on March 27, 1969, a separate board of regents was created for WTSU. The creation of the separate board promises even further growth for the university. According to Hank Brown, director of the West Texas Ex-Students, Inc., "The university is on the verge of its greatest growth, a growth that would not have been possible without a separate board."

WTSU is organized into a College of Arts and Sciences, School of Teacher Education, School of Business, School of Fine Arts, a recently approved School of Agriculture and a Graduate School.

Built in 1966, the Killgore Research Center has grown rapidly and become increasingly important in providing computing services to the university's students, teachers, researchers and administrators. It is involved in areas of life science, physical science and earth science. It is housed in a building of approximately 30,000 square feet and is maintained by the university.

The Panhandle Plains Historical Museum is also a notable addition to the campus. Built in 1932, the museum houses a unique collection of early western and pioneer relics. In addition, a new oriental room was recently opened. The building now has over 88,000 square feet of floor space.

Allowing students the opportunity to belong and to contribute to the changing patterns of college life, 12 fraternities and sororities have chapters on campus. Numerous special interest groups sponsor activities in their areas—music, speech, drama, dance, art, sciences, business and many others. An active student government sets policies for campus-wide activities, and seeks to advance the interests of the student body.

Although varsity sports involve students primarily as spectators, more than 1,200 men and several hundred women are active in the university's broad intramural sports programs.

In addition, eight religious groups have student centers adjacent the campus. Students meet regularly and participate in well-rounded programs of study, intramural games, devotionals, discussions, parties and varied social activities.

If a successful past is any sign of a promising future, West Texas State University is truly "on the verge of its greatest growth."

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of book becoming a best-seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamy side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind.

I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970s with imagination and integrity, and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.

Youngsters Play Host To Alamo Boys' Choir

Sixteen youngsters played host to members of the Alamo Boys' Choir of San Antonio Saturday in Palo Duro Canyon.

The group left First Presbyterian Church and traveled to the canyon to meet members of the organization who sang Saturday evening at Canyon High School.

Hamburgers were cooked by Winston Hall and a watermelon cut was held.

The youngsters spent the afternoon hiking, taking pictures and riding the Sad Monkey Railroad train. Members of the choir stayed at the Polk Street Methodist Church Retreat on the Hereford Highway.

Two standout junior college baseball players have signed scholarship agreements with West Texas State University.

The players are Willie Young, a second team All-American selection, and Kenny Grounds, both of whom played for Connors State Junior College in Warner, Okla.

Young, 6-1 and 195, is a pitcher-third baseman. He hit .405 playing only third base this spring to be named to the All-American squad at that position. He had seven home runs.

In American Legion baseball, at Guthrie, Okla., last summer he hit .340 and had a 10-2 pitching record.

"Young throws as hard as any pitcher we faced this season," said WTSU coach Bob Sloan.

Grounds, who is 6-5 and 220, had a 6-0 pitching record for Connors this spring and hit .330 while playing first base and outfield. He's a left-hander. Last summer in American Legion play at Stillwater, Okla., he had a 10-0 record.

The accompanying letter was sent anonymously to the Drivers License office in the Randall County Court-cording to Judy Prichard of that office."When the Drivers Ed classes are going on we start getting calls from kids and parents about other kids who are driving without a license or with a restricted license with no adult in the car," Mrs. Prichard said.The parents say, "What do I tell my child when they see their friends driving?""I tell them this is the law, this is what we go by," Mrs.

Prichard stated.To combat the unlicensed driver problem, the Canyon Public Schools offer courses in driver education in two parts. First is a six-eight week session of classroom work during the last part of the spring semester. The second is behind the wheel experience which comes during the first portion of the summer. About mid summer, the process begins again with both sections of the course being offered.This summer about 250 youngsters have enrolled for Driver Education according to Lee Ash, assistant principal at CHS.To qualify the students must be 15 years of age, so many of the students come from the Junior High School. If they participate in driver education training they are eligible to receive their regular license at the age of 16. If they do not, recent legislation prevents them from being a licensed driver until age 18.Families are especially interested in this program because of insurance premium reductions given when youngster has participated in the program."The driver education classes are offered during the summer when our coaches are free," said Ash.
Teaching the course are B.
B. Kendrick, Jack York,
Louis Traversky and Willie McAlpin.Cars for the program are provided by Imperial Chevrolet and Jess Ford, both of Canyon.Driving begins at 6 a.m. and lasts for 12 hours. The cars are in constant operation. Each class lasts one and one-half hours per day, six days a week. Each student drives one third of this time with three students assigned to each car. They spend the other two-thirds of the time observing.Classroom work is spaced over a six-week period with a total of 30 hours to be accumulated.According to Coach Kenrick, "the first thing we do is make sure they can drive safely on the highway. We put them on the highway the first day. We have cars with automatic transmissions and this makes it easier. In standards shifts the cars would die all the time."The first two hours of driving time are rural driving, spent on Farm to Market and dirt roads.The next two hours that each student drives are spent in town combined with some highway driving.
"When you drive in town it is difficult to spend 30 minutes just turning left and right," Kendrick noted.Two hours are spent working on stop lights, stop signs, U-turns, turn arounds, passing a car, parallel parking, angle parking and defensive driving.According to Kendrick, the kids are pretty good drivers to begin with. He estimates that an average of two students out of each 12will not have any behind the wheel experience."Most have driven tractors or pickups on the farm.
Or their folks take them out in the country. Of course some drive right here in town without a license."Police Chief Calvin Cost-ley agreed that this situation exists, but he said, "it is no great problem."Costly noted that the current number of unlicensed drivers seem to be concentrated in the area of minibikes rather than automobiles.He also stated that complaints of unlicensed driving are investigated but there seldom is any real basis for the complaint.To qualify to teach Driver Education, an instructor must have nine hours of undergraduate or graduate credit, six hours in Driver Education, three in Safety Education. Then they must be certified by the State.
These courses are offered at West Texas State University."We have several student teachers observing in our courses each year," Kendrick said.In discussing the advantages of participating in the course, Ash said, "A kid may not pay attention in his regular academic subjects, but if they miss something in this their life depends on it. They can leave out one item in regular class. If you make one mistake in this you're in bad shape. It is real important."The driver education program is followed by the test for a provisional or restricted license at the Driver License Bureau.Next classes begin July 1.
A charge of $15 is made for behind the wheel driving to defray expenses.*Drivers License Div.
Canyon, TexasDear Sirs,Some of us mothers of students in the Jr. High School are wondering how do so many of the students get by with driving the family car or pick up to school when they aren't old enough to have a drivers license. Our children want to drive our cars to school, but we don't allow them to. What are we to do?
Be old meanies in the eyes of our children?Some Concerned Mothers*

Mock Protest And Election Liven Up Annual Church School

When protests and demonstrations are staged by fifth graders, chances are that things aren't really as they appear.

Youngsters in the fifth and sixth grades attending the Ecumenical Church School sponsored by five Canyon churches are participating in a program called "Christians and Conflict" and they are studying what is involved in making a choice that causes conflict.

The sixth grade students have been involved in a mock election, with two parties sponsoring candidates for a youth leader from Canyon who would be sent to Washington to voice the views on the problems confronting the youth of today.

The fifth graders, who were not eligible to vote in the election, staged a protest, sporting signs and slogans of "Lower the voting age to the fifth grade."

The sixth graders divided themselves into three parties, the Psychedelic Cyclones, who ran Bill Luquette as their candidate; the Demo-Patchins, who ran Donnie Patchin; and a third uncommitted party.

"The voting in the election was close with Bill Luquette coming out on top," according to Mrs. Emerson Haraden, sixth grade teacher.

The third party conducted the voter registration, making sure that all eligible voters were registered. They drew up the election rules, conducted a mock television interview and counted the votes after the election.

Before the election they constructed a red, white and blue voting booth to be used during the election.

The other two parties drew up their own platforms, outlining what they thought the major problems of the day were.

The platform of the Psychedelic Cyclones was as follows:

We, the Psychedelic Cyclone Party, promise to serve the youth of Canyon if our candidate is elected. We pledge ourselves in support of the following resolutions:

1. We believe that all kinds of pollution are bad because pollution kills the new generation. When you kill nature, you kill yourself. We oppose the spraying of the pesticide toxaphene in New Mexico because it might contaminate Lake Meredith water.

2. We believe that all forms of violence are bad because violence wounds us all.

3. We believe that young people can turn on and have fun without drugs. We believe that all public school children should be informed of the dangers of taking drugs.

4. We believe that the views of young people regarding the war in Southeast Asia should be made known to our leaders in Washington.

5. We believe the police should be recruited from all minority groups, especially the black, and that they should have better education and more pay.

The Demo-Patchins' platform read:

Edmondson Will Attend MVC Meet

July 16 has been set for a meeting of the Missouri Valley Conference in St. Louis, Mo., according to Jack Edmondson, chairman of the WTSU Athletic Committee.

Edmondson will serve in the capacity of faculty representative to the Conference. This will mark his first official participation since West Texas was accepted into the Conference on June 20.

Edmondson noted that an agenda has not as yet been presented for the meeting that "I got the impression at the press conference (in Dallas) that the officials were pretty serious about expansion."

Canyon Capers Set Graduation

The Canyon Capers Square Dance Club danced to the calling of Knox Day Monday night.

Four squares were present. Guests included Alice and Henry Thensen of Dumont, New Jersey; Agnes M. Nicholson, Cleveland, Ohio; Agnes Rapiet, Cleveland, Ohio; Lee Roy McDougale, Guy and Virginia Williams, Dave and Ruth Culp, all of Amarillo; and Bill and Lae Williams of Sacramento, Calif.

Scheduled for Monday night are a salad supper and graduation dance for the students that have been taking lessons from the Capers.

1. Regain our conquest of the moon after we have made the United States a better place to live.

2. A cautious slowdown in production of nuclear weapons.

3. Stop making taxes so high so people can give more to charity.

4. We believe that drugs are endangering the lives of America's youth.

5. We are all brothers and sisters and we should not fight.

6. Use technology to cultivate lands that are now unliveable so there will be more space to live in.

"The children are studying the conflict all over the world and ways it can be resolved," according to Mrs. Charles Pedersen, sixth grade teacher.

"The students drew up their own platforms—they are their own ideas. They are learning about the conflict involved in making any choice, and they feel that this conflict can be resolved through co-operation," she said.

"Last week they made collages, using pictures of every kind of conflict they could find. They are asking the questions, 'What can Christians do to resolve conflict?' and 'How can Christians rise above conflict?'" she said.

"The children feel that the election represents a way Christians can participate in conflict and resolve it," she added.

The Ecumenical Church School is sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, the First United Methodist Church, St. Ann's Catholic Church, the Episcopal University Center and the First Christian Church.

Fifth and sixth grade classes are meeting at the Presbyterian Church, fourth grade classes at the Christian Church, and the rest at the Methodist Church.

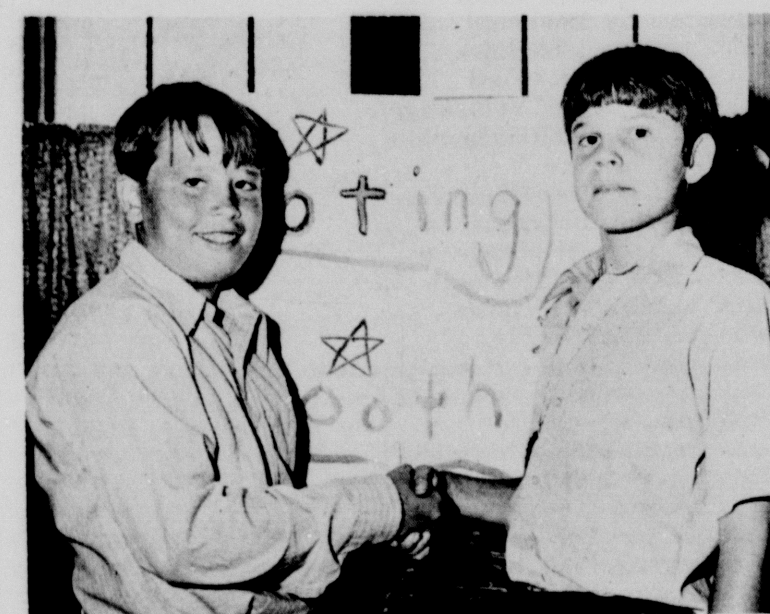

The Church School will end Friday with an open house for parents from 11 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Dioramas of African dwellings are constructed at the First Christian Church by children enrolled in the Ecumenical Church School.

African animals are made from boxes and cans by Sharon Castleberry, Kim Word, Linda Plain and Diane Roberts. The project is part of a program called "God's World Wide Family," sponsored by the Ecumenical Church School. These children are attending sessions at the First United Methodist Church.

Demo-Patchins' candidate Donnie Patchin congratulates winner Bill Luquette, sponsored by the Psychedelic Cyclones.

Children enrolled in Vacation Church School at the Methodist Church take time out for refreshments in the shade of a tree in the yard.

Plains Presbytery Sets Camp, Conference

Camping sessions and conferences are on the July agenda for the Plains Presbytery.

Scheduled from July 5 through July 24 are camps at Ceta Glen Christian Camp. Facilities include dorms, dining hall, canteen, swimming pool, chapel and vesper area. The camps are based on the interaction of small groups in a total program of study, worship, recreation and living. Cost of the sessions is $25.

The first camp, Junior Camp No. 1, is scheduled for July 5-10 under the direction of the Rev. John Otey of Perryton. The session is for students in the sixth and seventh grades.

Eighth and ninth graders will attend the second session, July 12-18. Camp director is the Rev. Lael Smith of Amarillo.

Junior Camp No. 2 is set for July 19-24 under the direction of the Rev. Harland Collins, Guymon, Okla. This camp is for sixth and seventh graders.

A senior conference is to be offered at the Episcopal Conference Center north of Amarillo July 5-11. The conference is to be a centralized program of study, worship, recreation and community living in which principles of Christian faith and action are emphasized. Camp director is the Rev. Dick Thomas of Amarillo.

Persons eligible for this camp are those entering grades 10, 11 or 12 or who are 1970 graduates.

Cost of the conference is $35. This covers insurance for the campers as well as the camp cost. A nurse will be on duty.

Ministers and Christian education leaders from various churches in Plains Presbytery will serve as staff members at each camp session and at the senior conference.

Reeves will be teaching in the English department.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller have moved to 1123 Creekmore. Miller will be a part of the business faculty. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have three sons.

Forger Given Three Years

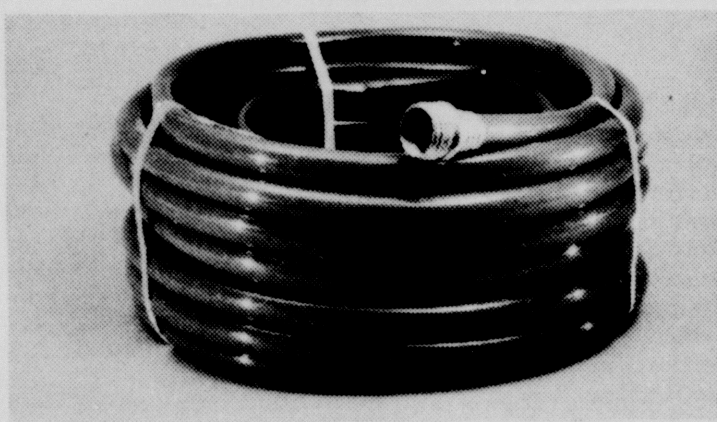

Scott Hawkins, 19, of Amarillo received a three-year sentence in the state penitentiary on a forgery indictment Monday in 181st District Court.

Hawkins was found guilty of passing a forged instrument in the amount of $10.58 at Toot 'N' Totum grocery store.

OCU Piano Professor Conducting Workshop

Dr. Clarence Burg, dean emeritus and professor of music at Oklahoma City University, is conducting a workshop for piano teachers this week in the Fine Arts Building at WTSU.

Dr. Burg, who began his career with OCU in 1928 as dean of the college of fine arts, received bachelor and master of music degrees from the Eastman School of Music. He obtained his doctorate in Music from the College of the Ozarks.

He is a member of the Oklahoma City chapter of the American Guild of Organists and is chairman of the Oklahoma Examining Committee. He has served as the first president of the Oklahoma Music Teachers Association.

Twenty-five area music teachers of private piano are enrolled in the workshop. According to Dr. Burg, these teachers are "the backbone of piano teaching in the United States. Without them there would be no piano taught in college. About 10 years of piano is necessary before these people (students) can be accepted for college work."

As part of the workshop, Dr. Burg is listening to demonstration of music technique by the pupils of the teachers enrolled and is critiquing their work.

He called the group he is instructing, "One of the most distinguished groups of teachers I have ever taught."

He also noted that "the room provided by the college is one of the best I have ever used for a workshop." Topics covered in the sessions which last through Friday are materials, performance, technique, memorization, sight reading, group teaching, motivation and the pupil and how to teach him.

Canyon participants include Mrs. Jack York and Christina Su Chung Wang.

for commodities.

Persons with low income who live in Randall County and are not on public assistance may apply at the office, Applications are accepted on the basis of resources and income. They must also have the facilities for preparing food.

According to Mrs. Gay Long of the Commodities office, 14 persons have applied for commodities so far. Applications are verified by her office.

Mrs. Long said, "Persons living in the city limits of Canyon should apply July 1, 2, 6 and 7. Those living in Randall county in Amarillo should apply July 9, 10, 13 and 14. All persons living in the rural areas east of U. S. Highway 87 should apply July 15, 16 and 17. No applications will be accepted or commodities will be issued on July 8, 30, 31." These days are reserved for receiving commodities stock and closing out books.

Commodities available currently include flour, rice, corn meal, boned turkey, cheese, white beans, syrup, raisins, green beans, condensed milk, instant mashed potatoes, macaroni, peanut butter, orange juice, powdered milk and eggs, shortening, and rolled wheat.

Products vary from month to month, according to Mrs. Long, based on availability. She also noted that the office will be equipped with a refrigerator and freezer so that more products will be available.

When asked if the Randall County Commission will continue to provide assistance to needy persons, Judge Carroll Brown stated that the commission will send people to the Commodities Center if they need groceries. "But we handle aid that is not in the form of groceries," he said.

"Yesterday we had a family stranded here without gasoline or a job. They were following the wheat harvest."

"Our policy will not change. Aid depends on how much is needed and how long it is necessary. We find out first what they are doing to help themselves," Judge Brown said.

but in colder climates it takes from 40 to 60 years.

In the Panhandle, the plant blooms after 20 to 25 years.

When the plant blooms, it dies.

The century plant has thick, fleshy leaves, edged and tipped with sharp spines. Leaves are five to seven feet long and they grow in a tight rosette.

The stem of the plant is short and thick, but when the plant blooms, the stem springs up 20 to 30 feet.

The flowers of the plant are of a greenish-yellow color and are saucer-size when they open all the way.

Tickets range from $1 to $3.50 for children and from $2 to $4 for adults and may be purchased from the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation office, 2010 4th Ave. in Canyon or by writing P.O. Box 268.

Free gate admission to Palo Duro Canyon is available to ticketholders.

Fish. . .

again.

Christopher said he may add another well for volume production at some time in the future.

The huge pond was scraped out lengthwise to prevailing winds so the wind action on the water would add the maximum oxygen. Oxygen is important to fish production, he explained.

The pond also will be equipped with an aerating pump for lifting and spraying the water.

Christopher said the pond will be filled to a depth averaging about four feet although the dike is much higher. He said that although the dikes were firmly packed, waves would eat them away if the pond is filled too near the top.

"In strong wind we'll get rollers five feet high," he said.

Stocking of the pond with 8,000 channel catfish will begin July 8. Christopher said the fish will be of sufficient size to grow out 1 1/2 pound fish by harvest time in September and October.

The stocking fish will come from Arkansas as do most fish for area fish farms.

"We are going to go minimum stocking until we get our feet on the ground," Christopher explained.

The pond will be equipped with two automatic feeders. The feed container will be above the water with a device below the surface which will eject feed into the water when bumped by a fish.

"Pond raised fish learn to do that," said Christopher. "We are going to stock only pond raised fish, no wild ones."

He said controlled diet of the fish will enhance the flavor of the meat—no moss or mud taste.

"Initially we will be set up so people can pick up undressed fish," Christopher noted. "Eventually we will have dressed and undressed fish with a charge being made for dressing."

Christopher said plans call for a tank for sports fishing on a fee basis. Fish in the special tank will be hand fed since fish fed by automation will not bite a hook.

Fisher Men Back From Manitoba

Four Canyon men have returned from a fishing trip to Canada. They are Bill Wilson, Dr. W. J. Wooten, Bud Parker and Wesley Cox.

The men spent three days fishing at Namew for Northern Pike which is located at the top of Manitoba.

Docket Call Set Friday

Docket call will be held in 181st District Court at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, according to George Dowlen, Randall County criminal district attorney.

Don Dean is the presiding judge.

Reject. . .

jection of the Amarillo proposal.

"As far as I am concerned I think we should thank Amarillo for the offer and discontinue the service," said Commissioner Glenn Dowlen.

"I agree with you," said Clarence Beckman.

Randall County has no written contract with Amarillo but has an agreement which either party can terminate on 30 days' notice.

In other business, the court sat as a board of equalization and heard representatives from three pipeline companies, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and one individual.

Although the phone company representative and the pipeline people were in disagreement with the county as to the valuation schedules on their property, they were all complimentary on the recent lowering of the tax rate.

The rate has been lowered from $1.64 to $1.42 per $100 valuation.

"I am pleased to see you dropped your rate," said John O'Bannon with the telephone company. "I don't really see how you were able to do that."

Pipeline representatives had asked that the county use the state pipeline schedule in placing valuations on pipeline in the county.

The county is continuing to use the same valuation schedule as used last year.

George Blackwell of the Blackwell Insurance Agency, reviewed the county's insurance coverage and recommended some changes including increase in coverage on the old court house building from $135,000 to $450,000.

Divorce. . .

county clerk.

When a divorce is granted in district court and children are involved the presiding judge stipulates a certain amount of child support.

If a man fails to pay up he can be held in contempt of court, fined and put in jail until he pays up.

District Clerk La Quitta Polvadore says her office has had five contempt cases this month in which the father failed to pay his child support.

Usually the checks are made to the district clerk. Mrs. Polvadore can endorse these without recourse and turn them over to the mother or guardian of the children involved.

Under reciprocal child support laws, a woman living in Randall County may file a petition for child support and the court which has jurisdiction over the father, regardless of the state in which it might be located, handles the case. Mrs. Polvadore pointed out that child support is just what the name implies. Texas law makes no provision for alimony payment as in some states.

She said there frequently are cases in which the father simply cannot pay due to sickness or loss of a job. In some of these cases the judge uses his own discretion and is lenient.

Mrs. Polvadore says there isn't much chance of business slacking off. "I know of two judgements involving children brought in yesterday," she said. "We have had 15 divorces in June."

Homemaker's Hobbies Keep Her Hopping

BY DIANNE BROADDUS

Between times of feeding chickens and milking the cow by hand, Mrs. R. A. Burrus, northwest of Canyon, finds time to keep up with her hobbies.

A member of the Westside Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Burrus has taken up the hobby of decoupage, a project which the club started recently.

"I really don't know too much about it, but I'm having a good time with it," she said.

Another hobby is collecting sugar bowls and creamers which she keeps on a shelf in the hall.

"One set was given to my parents on their 50th wedding anniversary," she said.

She collects pieces of cut glass and china also. Some of her china pieces are antiques but she doesn't know how old they are.

"I just love cut glass things. My daughters have given me several pieces. I keep telling them that they are too expensive, but I just love them," she said.

Mrs. Burrus doesn't like to sew, but she does like to collect fabric.

"You might say one of my biggest hobbies is collecting fabric. I have a seamstress who does all my sewing for me, but I like to pick out the material," she said.

"I think I don't like to sew because I have to sit still for so long. I'm the out of doors type and I like to be doing things," she added.

An accomplished cook,

Mrs. Burrus also collects recipes.

The recipes given below are some of her favorites for desserts:

BUTTERMILK-COCOONUT PIE

5 eggs, beaten
2 cups sugar
1 stick melted oleo
¾ cup buttermilk
1 cup coconut

Mix ingredients well. Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes. Don't over cook.

BUTTERMILK CAKE

2 cups sugar
4 eggs
2 sticks oleo
3 cups flour
1 cup buttermilk
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Combine sugar and oleo. Beat for three minutes. Add eggs one at a time, beating after each addition. Combine flour and soda and add to first mixture alternately with buttermilk. Beat four minutes and add extract. Bake in moderate oven in tube pan 45 minutes to an hour. Test with toothpick. May be eaten with fruits of all kinds.

SWEET POTATO CAKE

1 stick oleo, melted
1 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon soda

½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 flat can or 6 oz. crushed pineapple, drained
1 small can of baby food sweet potatoes
1 cup nuts, chopped

Mix well and cook in greased, floured 9 x 13 pan. Cook at 325 degrees from 30-40 minutes.

ICING FOR SWEET POTATO CAKE

3 oz. package of cream cheese
½ stick oleo, melted

Add powdered sugar until icing is thick enough. Mix in water if needed. Put on cooled cake.

DENVERBISCUITS

Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 2 tablespoons warm water. Add:

¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup shortening
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups sour milk
4½ cups flour

Cut shortening into flour. Add all other dry ingredients. Add sour milk and yeast cake that has been softened. Mix well.

Refrigerate mixture and take out as much as needed for one meal. The mixture will keep in the refrigerator for several days. Keep covered.

Legion Team Loses Marathon To Rebels

In an American Legion baseball marathon that went 16 innings here Monday night Canyon lost a squeaker 6-4 after twice being tied with Tascosa.

"It went nearly all night," commented Canyon Coach Max Bosley. The game finally ended about 11:30 after stretching through four hours.

The two teams played a 9-inning contest by agreement but at the end of that period were deadlocked 2-2.

Each scored two runs in the 11th and went without scoring again until the 16th when Tascosa pushed two more across to win.

Lynn Salmon scored in the first inning for Canyon. He got on a third base error and scampered home on a Stew Downing single.

Max Bosley scored in the fourth when he was driven in by Randall Hicks.

The next Canyon score came in overtime in the 11th when Sandy Hair walked and was singled home by Downing. Then Downing scored Canyon's final tally when Tascosa tried to throw a man out at second and Downing stole home.

Tascosa scored one in the third, one in the fifth, two in the 11th and two in the 16th.

Keith Keeling pitched 12 innings for Canyon and was relieved by Lynn Salmon who had been playing catcher. Salmon went the rest of the way.

The Canyon team was to have played Palo Duro here Wednesday night.

Mrs. Burrus checks on her evening meal as she indulges in one of her favorite hobbies, cooking.
